- 1. Self-propelled missiles of the wartime V-2 type are being manufactured at Stalin (Brasov). They are made in a special section of the Steagul Rosu factory (formerly Astra Vagoane factory). The main product of this factory is still railroad cars which are sent to the USSR.
- 2. Radio-sending devices are being made at the Electromagnetica factory (formerly the Standard Factory) at Florence, near Bucharest. Autoindependenta (formerly the Ford factory) is producing machine parts. Both are working entirely for the army. Both have been reorganized and reequipped.
- 3. The Dudesti-Cioplea factory, near Bucharest, has hitherto been making medicines. It is now being turned over to the manufacture of gunpowder.
- 4. The Rumanian Communist authorities have just concluded an agreement with the Pieck-Grotewohl Government for completing construction of an industrial complex at Ucea de Sus, in the Fagaras district in Transylvania. This is to consist of a central electric plant and three factories, one for nitro-cellulose, one for artillery explosives, and a third for nitric acid. The USSR authorities think this plan sufficiently important to justify them in sending down important German technicians to assist in this project.
